The NAGA GROUP AG: US business magazine Forbes selects Executive Director Benjamin Bilski to be included in the famous "30 under 30 - Europe" talent list.

Hamburg, January 22, 2018

Today, respected US business magazine Forbes has released its third ranking of 300 young people under the age of 30 in ten categories for Europe. The NAGA GROUP AG (WKN A161NR, ISIN: DE000A161NR7, abbreviation: N4G) is pleased to announce the inclusion of Executive Director Benjamin Bilski in the technology category.

The "30 under 30" ranking annually lists young people with a particularly strong influence and/or a high degree of innovation in their industry. The list was produced in Europe for the first time in 2016. Thousands of suggestions from the online community were reviewed by Forbes and a panel of judges selected the top 30 in each of the ten categories: Science & Health, Industry, Finance, Technology, Arts & Culture, Entertainment, Media & Marketing, Law & Politics, Social Entrepreneurship and Retail & E-Commerce.

Benjamin Bilski is very pleased about the nomination and particularly for what it means for NAGA: "The inclusion in the worldwide recognized Forbes "30 under 30" list is a great personal honor. At the same time, it emphasises NAGA's high innovative strength and is a testament to our unique corporate development."

The publication of the list will be celebrated tonight in London.
